

The Idaho Old Time Fiddlers Association Inc.

Founded and Serving Idaho and Its Communities Since 1963

Celebrating 45 Years of Old Time Fiddling in Idaho!

Our History: In 1963 Governor Robert E. Smylie appointed musicians Mannie Shaw of Coral and Blaine Stubblefield of Weiser to the Idaho Territorial Centennial Committee. Their responsibility was to organize all of the fiddlers for the purpose of providing appropriate music to play in community observances throughout the state in celebration of it being one hundred years since Idaho became a territory. A meeting was held in Weiser to form the organization known as The Idaho Old Time Fiddlers Association (IOTFA).

Today: The IOTFA has members throughout the State of Idaho. We proudly continue to provide music for convalescent and retirement homes, business events, family gatherings, community events, reunions and dances. We continue to promote and perpetuate old time fiddling, and encourage adults as well as young people to develop their musical talents. The IOTFA is an acoustic-string instrument and non-profit organization, and we gladly accept donations for our performances.
